The central part of the page is dominated by a large, highly decorative musical score. It features a large, ornate initial letter 'C' on the left side. The score consists of multiple staves of music, with notes and rests arranged in a complex, flowing manner. The notation is highly stylized and includes many flourishes. The text 'Canaries' and 'Mr La Garde' is written in a cursive hand on the left, while 'performed by & Mr Düpre' and 'formed by Düpre' is written in a similar hand on the right. The entire score is enclosed in a rectangular border.
